

Nemours and Christiana Care Launch Advanced Delivery Program

First of its kind in Delaware, deliveries at Nemours to begin September 2019

Wilmington, Del. – Focused on providing the highest level of care for infants in the most vulnerable circumstances, Nemours/Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children and Christiana Care Health System are partnering to provide the Nemours & Christiana Care Advanced Delivery Program. This program – the first of its kind in Delaware – is designed to help care for mothers and babies with prenatally diagnosed conditions that require swift intervention after the birth.

Currently, babies with prenatal diagnoses requiring surgical/non-surgical intervention are delivered at Christiana or other regional hospitals and transferred to Nemours duPont Hospital for Children. This brings both health risk to the baby and emotional distress as mother and infant are separated soon after birth.

The Nemours & Christiana Care Advanced Delivery Program will allow both the delivery and the specialized care the baby needs afterward to occur in one location at Nemours duPont Hospital for Children in Wilmington. Delivery will be led by the obstetrical team from Christiana Care, while post-delivery intervention will be managed by pediatric subspecialists from Nemours. The two teams will be fully integrated every step of the way, from initial diagnosis through post-intervention care.

The family's obstetrician, who plays a critical role in the care and comfort of expectant mothers, is an integral member of the care team, before and after delivery. Together, all of these physicians and surgeons can optimize outcomes for babies with congenital abnormalities, while enhancing the experience for mothers. Referrals from clinicians have begun, with deliveries starting in September 2019.

The program will be co-led by medical directors representing both organizations: Joanna Costa, MD, Nemours neonatologist and Margaret R. Chou, MD, Christiana Care Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology. Clinicians in the unit expect to treat about 30 expectant mothers in the first year of operation.

Quotes from Nemours and Christiana Care Leaders

“We are proud to partner with Christiana Care to advance and promote the health and well-being of mothers and babies,” said Roy Proujansky, MD, chief executive officer, Nemours Delaware Valley. “As regional leaders in health care, we look forward to working together on programs that positively impact our community.”

“We are excited to partner with our colleagues at Nemours. Together, we will continue our long legacies of providing innovative care to our community,” said Janice E. Nevin, MD, MPH, Christiana Care president and chief executive officer. “As we serve together, the collective expertise of our blended caregiver teams will offer a unique and loving experience for moms and their babies.”

“A mother whose baby has a prenatally diagnosed condition that requires immediate intervention after birth may find the physical separation from her baby to be emotionally difficult and stressful,” said Dr.
