(December 18, 2020) Today, front line healthcare workers at Nemours duPont Hospital for Children began rolling up their sleeves to receive the first round of the COVID-19 vaccine in Delaware. A process was created at Nemours to identify and prioritize associates who are critical to patient care. While the vaccine is not mandatory, all Nemours associates are highly encouraged to get it.

Nemours has received 750 doses for this first round of vaccinations. The vaccines are being administered in a location that observes social distancing and safety protocols.

Vickie Freeman, a registered nurse at Nemours duPont Hospital for Children was the first to receive the vaccine. "I feel like I'm a pioneer. I did not get a chance to be in the military so I feel like I am a soldier and I'm fighting this virus."
